Torklift International OUR STORY

It began with ONE MAN.

1958

The Torklift story starts in 1958 when Jon Kay began working at a hitch and tow shop in Tacoma, Washington. Through his experience, he decided he wanted to open his own shop someday.

1976

After several years of planning and accumulating equipment, he opens his own shop in Kent, Washington: Torklift Central Welding. Upon opening the doors for business, he begins fabricating his own line of products.

1981

Torklift Central Welding grows in success, doubling in size with the addition of two bays.

1988 - 1992

The expansion continues with the purchase of additional buildings and the demolition of the original building to make way for a larger shop.

1990

True Frame-Mounted Tie Downs are invented. They are the first product manufactured by Torklift and the first of their kind in the world.

1995

Torklift Central Welding purchases their first CNC plasma cutter.

1999

Torklift International is born. While Torklift Central Welding is still around today, they continue to conduct business as a separate company. Torklift International manufactures parts that are sold all over the world. But it all began with Jon Kay's dream to open a small hitch and tow shop.

1999

Torklift International ships their first SuperHitch and SuperTruss.

2003

The FastGun Turnbuckle is invented. It is the first turnbuckle of its kind with a quick-disconnect handle.

2004

Torklift International purchases their first dual-head, high def. CNC plasma.

2008

The SuperHitch line expands to include the SuperHitch Magnum.

2011

Torklift International moves to a new facility in Sumner, Washington to meet expansion needs.

Today

Torklift International continues to develop products and programs to further the RV and automotive industries. They maintain their commitment to customer service by being available 24 hours a day and living up to their Legendary Lifetime Warranty promise.

Jon Kay still continues to develop innovative products at Torklift International to this day.
