ABOUT OUR CANDLE CONTAINERS

Our glass candle container collection offers a myriad of affordable glass candle jars in classic styles and designs. For manufacturers looking for a glass jar to pour your candles in, the Glassnow candle range has options to fit your requirements. Our line of recycled candle containers range from 2.5 oz colored glass jars perfect for votives to 26 oz jars ideal for large scented candles. We invite you to explore the possibilities for enhancing your candle range below and on our website.

Round Containers

Our round candle jars are ideal for both pillar and poured candles. You'll find styles from the classic 26 oz Verona Jar to the 2.5 oz votive holders. Here are a few new and favorite styles in our range of round glass jars.

16 oz Calypso Jar

The Calypso Collection features an elegant 16 oz. recycled glass jar in a range of fresh and classic colors. It's the ideal container for packaging of pillar and poured candles or for retailing as home décor and storage. The clear version will show off your spring candle colors beautifully, while the darker jar hues make a wonderful vessel for fall scented candles. Closures are available including tapered cork and bamboo lids. (C6182)

Verona Container

Our 26 oz. round glass candle container is perfect for packaging your large pillar and poured jar candles. The Verona Container features a banded top for labeling with ribbon or twine. While its smooth sides allow for adhesive labeling. The clear version shows color candles beautifully, while the colored jars bring a pop of personality to your candle line. Complete your candle packaging with the corresponding bamboo lid. (C7117)

Square Containers

Our range of square glass jars is ideal for packaging candles, both pillar and poured varieties. In addition to our classic square jars, we've added some modern and retro styles to give you a wider selection from which to choose. Our Acropolis Jar (in 11 and 20 oz) and the 8.5 oz Square Glass Jar are both new this season (shown below), while our 8.5 oz Square Candle Container is a customer favorite.

ABOUT OUR RECYCLED GLASS

Glassnow, a wholesale manufacturer and distributor of recycled glass packaging and accessories, is committed to protecting the Earth and our environment. In keeping with that, we offer recycled glass products that are both eco-friendly and affordable. With a product selection that incorporates recycled materials, we are able to provide a wide selection of affordably-priced glass packaging products across many industries.

► Over 1000 affordable
eco friendly products

We offer an array of products all manufactured from recycled content. The recycled content of each of our products is noted in the description section on each product page found on our website, Glassnow.com.

► Many benefits to recycling glass

Glassnow recognizes the importance of recycling glass, because it not only conserves the environment, but also saves energy. The process required to produce glass is quite simple as it is composed of sand, soda, lime and lots of heat. The obvious benefits of recycling glass are to reuse and save our natural resources, but the most important benefit of recycling is that it requires considerably less energy than needed to melt raw materials.

► Many methods to producing glass

There are several different methods of producing recycled glass products: automatic, semi-automatic, hand or mouth blown. The variations in these methods are what make the final product so unique.

Automatic: The automatic method is primarily used for bottles and jars due to the fact that it is a fast, cost effective method to produce large quantities of an item. Items are never touched until they are completed and cooled.

Semi-Automatic: This method uses machines and human hands. The machine forms the mold and human hands assist in the more decorative aspects of the piece.

Hand or mouth blown: The most unique and one-of-a-kind items are produced using this method as glass artists often spend years fine tuning their craft and may never create two identical pieces. Variations are often found in items produced by these methods.

There is a wonderful harmony created between the fully computerized manufacturing process and the artisan glassblowing techniques. Glassnow is proud to be among the exclusive group of wholesale distributors for recycled glass packaging products.

ABOUT COURONNE CO.

Emerging from Europe in 1993, Couronne (Crown, Fr) Company, Inc. moved into the US market with vast success. We originated with a single product - Water Gems, a water based gel used with fresh cut flowers and plants. Responding to an increase in customer requests, we shifted our product line to include glassware. It is our glassware line that has since become the focus for Couronne Company and is the basis for all new product designs.

While our 100% recycled European glassware range had long been the company's primary focus, a shift in product requests in 2005 led Couronne Company to develop a new glassware collection in China. The new line included bottles, jars, vases, bowls, candle containers and more made of 30% recycled glass.

In addition to our lines from Europe and China, we have since developed a popular and extensive line of metal home accents and corresponding accessories for glassware products. This product range includes wall sconces, tabletop stands, bottle caddies, and more, in which all metal designs are paired with glassware products. All product lines are in continuous development with new pieces being introduced each season.

As a leader in the wholesale and retail home décor and glassware industries, Couronne continues to be a competitive source and will always be committed to its valued customers. With a dedicated effort to supply superior products, exceptional customer service, and timely delivery all at a competitive price, we recognize the needs of the customer both in product selection and service.
